Walking From Wrongs To Rights

Three years ago this September, 70,000 Vancouverites took to the streets in the Walk for Reconciliation, committing to a new relationship between settlers and Indigenous peoples. Take another step with us in that journey. Participate in Indigenous and settler-led workshops that seek to catalyze action and understanding around the Truth and Reconciliation Commission's recommendations. Hear from local indigenous leaders how these recommendations are or can be worked out on the ground. Indigenous and non-Indigenous leaders will map the new geography for fostering the work of justice, healing and the implications for the church in discipleship, worship and spiritual formation.

Date: October 14-15, 2016 (Friday evening and Saturday)

Place: Grandview Calvary Baptist Church
1903 E. First Ave. , Vancouver

Cost: $75 whole conference or $30 Friday, $50 Saturday
